WELCOME

Welcome to your Free Energy Report. I wrote this Free Report to support your process of TRANSFORMATION.

It gives you tools to change your Law of Attraction results. It will not only change your cash flow, your success, the way you will live your life, connect with God/the Universe, but also what kind of health practices that you will use. It will support you in the direction of your career. The Law of Attraction is a personal experience and this Energy report will help you to manifest faster and more effortless your dreams. This report uses Diamond Feng Shui knowledge to activate 33.3% of your Law of Attraction that you have been missing. By using your Home as a three dimensional vision board, you will support your Mindset and manifest your dreams with more ease.

ENERGY NUMBER 4: THE MANAGER

YOUR ENERGY ARCHETYPE: THE MANAGER

Your Energy Archetype connected with Energy number 4 is called The Manager. The essence of the Manager is: “With a clear vision on the future you start projects, planning and organizing every step until they are finished with perfection. Nature is a resource of happiness for your relationships with family and friends. You enjoy the sun. Warm baths stimulate your circulation. You learn how to share your abundance with others”.

YOUR BEST DIRECTIONS

Your personal Success Direction is NORTH.

Your Transformation Experience

Your life will never be boring because you are always on a journey towards another future. Some may say you are a perfectionist, but you know you are a professional who is very focused on your career. You are always moving forward doing the best you can to perfect every step on your path.

An Energy Number 4 is very dedicated to complete what she or he is promising to deliver on a professional field. If you are a family member of an Energy number 4, then you need to remind him or her that there need to be time for rest and relaxation. Finding the balance between a professional life and a family life is a challenge. This number prefers to work alone, and you can ask for an office for yourself, but don't forget you also need collaboration and teamwork. That lonely attitude can break up your overall life. You need people around you, otherwise you will take things too seriously and you will have no fun.

Connect with your Success Direction

When you are awake, face your Success direction, North. It is from the North that your strongest Success energy flows. Your ability to attract success increases greatly when you face towards the North direction while you are working, sitting at your desk, and looking at your computer screen and when meeting with people, negotiating, and signing contracts. It would be even better if you could also sleep with the top of your head towards the North Direction.

It is best if you have a compass and carry it with you to be sure you are facing the proper direction. You will realize opportunities faster when you are looking towards the North, towards your greatest source of Success energy. North is between 337.5 and 22.5 degrees on the compass.

Stand in the center of the room you wish to activate and find out with your compass where your success direction is. Hold the compass in your hand on heart level. Do not put it on the ground and too close to other electrical items like a computer.

Activate your Success Direction

For great success, you need to activate the North area in 3 places:

- Professional success is focused in the North area of your office.
- Personal success is focused in the North area of your living room or family room.
- Romantic success is focused in the North area of your bedroom.

Next, examine the North area of your office, living room, or bedroom. Do the items, furniture, paintings, and colors. Example, if you have a vase with dead flowers, is this representative of an exceptional career?

Make sure there are no garbage cans or clutter in the North because these block the flow of energy or symbolically put your success in the garbage.

Use objects, images and items that represent Success in your work and place them in your workspace.

Use objects, images and items that represent Success in your family and place them in your living room/family room.

Use objects, images and items that represent Success in your personal romantic life and place them in your bedroom.

Extra Tip: Place a ROYAL BLUE and GOLDEN item your Success Direction.

Your Personal Health Direction: SOUTH

Your Transformation Experience

You need light and warmth to feel happy in your body. Missing your portion of daily sun can make you depressed. You love to party, but too much of it can really impact your immune system so achieving balance is the key for you. Don't do anything extreme, but do celebrate your body. Take dance lessons and surround yourself with music and colorful clothing and colored images on your wall. Make sure you have fresh flowers and plants around you. Also have fresh tropical fruit out in a fruit basket.

Connect with your Health Direction

Sleep or rest with the top of your head towards your health direction, South, or when you are awake, sitting in your office or in your dining room face your health direction. Your energy level will increase when you sleep with the crown of your head towards this direction; arrange your bed so you can do so. If you lie on your couch when you are ill, also make sure the top of your head faces the South. When you sit up, face this direction. South is between 157.5 and 202.5 degrees. Hold the compass at the foot end of your bed or couch to determine which direction your head will point towards.

Activate your Health Direction

To create the highest level of health, activate the South in 3 places:

- To stimulate energy for your health when you are working, place Feng Shui activations in the South area of your office. A healthy person creates a healthy business.

- Place Feng Shui activations in the South of your living or family room so that during the daytime you are creating good energy.
- Place Feng Shui activations in the South of your personal bedroom to stimulate your health while sleeping.

Use your compass to determine the South area in a room. You can imagine the room is divided in eight pieces of a pie and you are looking for the South piece, between 157.5 and 202.5 degrees.

Next, examine the South corner of your office, living room, or bedroom. Do the items, furniture, paintings, and colors represent what you wish to attract for health? For example, an image of a cactus could attract a poor immune system, so it may not reflect the message you want to send to the universe. Remove any clutter or garbage cans from the South, because they block the flow of energy, putting your health symbolically in the garbage.

Use objects, images and items that represent Health in your work and place them in the South of your workspace.

Use objects, images and items that represent Health in your family and place them in the South of your living room/family room.

Use objects, images and items that represent Health in your personal romantic life and place them in the South of your bedroom.

Extra Tip: Place an EMERALD GREEN item in your Health Direction.

Your Personal Relationships Direction is EAST

Your Transformation Experience

You see all people as members of your family. You love to be part of the history of a community, but you also enjoy meeting new people who are creative and inventive. You keep family traditions alive, and you are the one who keeps track of your family history. Keeping your family together will be one of your goals. You are someone who loves to know all the stories from the past and you are a traditionalist in your values for your family. Even if others will think some of your principles are old fashioned, you need to ask them to respect them because you are taking care of your family by respecting the ancient traditions. But once in a while it is good to open up to modern standards and values, and then try to bridge the old and the new together.

Connect with your Relationship Direction

Face or sleep towards your Relationship direction, East. Sleeping with the crown of your head towards the East will help to attract good relationships. Face East when you are in the office or attending business meetings, dinners, or important conferences and you will be much more successful with sales and marketing. Your clients will adore you. East is between 67.5 and 112.5 degrees on the compass.

Activate your Relationship Direction

To create the best relationships, activate the East in 3 places:

- For excellent professional relationships: focus on the East area of your office.
- For family relationships, it is best to focus on the East area of your family or living room.
- To stimulate your personal relationship direction focus on the East of your bedroom.

You can imagine the room is divided in eight pieces of a pie and you are looking for the East area between 67.5 and 112.5 degrees on the compass. Next, examine the East area of your office, living room, or bedroom. Do the items, furniture, paintings, and colors represent what you wish to attract in your relationships? For example, is an image of someone dancing alone in the rain representative of passion in your relationship? Remove any clutter or garbage cans from the East, because they block the flow of energy, putting your relationship luck symbolically in the garbage.

Use objects, images and items that represent Professional Relationships in your work and place them in the East of your workspace.

Use objects, images and items that represent Personal and Family Relationships and place them in the East of your living room/family room.

Use objects, images and items that represent Romantic Relationships in your personal romantic life and place them in the East of your bedroom.

Extra Tip: Place a ROSE item in your Relationship Direction.

Your Personal Wisdom Direction is SOUTHEAST

Your Transformation Experience

You learn your spiritual lessons by working with money. Abundance is Divine, and you pray for wealth for yourself and others. Others come to you for financial advice because you know how to practice and teach success principles. That would be the ultimate version of the wisdom path of the number 4. But there is often a long journey they will walk before this manifests. Understand that money is manna. It is created by the Divine as a vehicle to understand the manifestation of the power in you. Once you understand the universal principles behind money, you will reach enlightenment.

Connect with your Wisdom Direction

When seeking knowledge or spiritual awareness, face your Wisdom direction, Southeast. Your strongest Wisdom energy flows from the Southeast. This is your direction to connect with God or the Universe. You will attract greater wisdom and knowledge if you face Southeast while you are studying at your desk and meditating or praying. Southeast is between 112.5 and 157.5 degrees on the compass.

Activate your wisdom Direction

Stimulate your professional wisdom by placing Feng Shui activations in the Southeast area of your office.

Stimulate your social wisdom by placing Feng Shui activations in the Southeast of your living or family room.

Stimulate your nightly insights by placing Feng Shui activations in the Southeast of your bedroom.

Use your compass to determine the Southeast area in a room. You can imagine the room divided in eight pieces of a pie and you are looking for the Southeast area between 112.5 and 157.5 degrees on the compass. Next, examine the Southeast area of your office, living room, or bedroom. Do the items, furniture, paintings, and colors represent what you wish to attract for wisdom?

For example, an image of a blocked road shows the universe that you do not open yourself to new insights, so it may not reflect the message you want to send to the universe. Remove any clutter or garbage cans from the Southeast, because they block the flow of energy, putting your wisdom symbolically in the garbage.

Use objects, images and items that represent Wisdom in your work and place them in the Southeast of your workspace.

Use objects, images and items that represent Wisdom in your family and place them in the Southeast of your living room/family room.

Use objects, images and items that represent Wisdom in your personal romantic life and place them in the Southeast of your bedroom.

Extra Tip: Place a YELLOW item in your Wisdom Direction.

CONCLUSION

I hope that this Free Energy Report has inspired you to take action to transform your Success, Health, Relations and Wisdom.
